Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs

Fulbright alumni have achieved distinction in government, science, the arts, business, philanthropy, education, and athletics:

40 Fulbright alumni have served as heads of state or government

62 Fulbright alumni from 15 countries have been awarded the Nobel Prize

76 Fulbright alumni are MacArthur Foundation Fellows

89 Fulbright alumni have received Pulitzer Prizes

Stanford Global Studies takes part in AAC&U Global Learning Conference

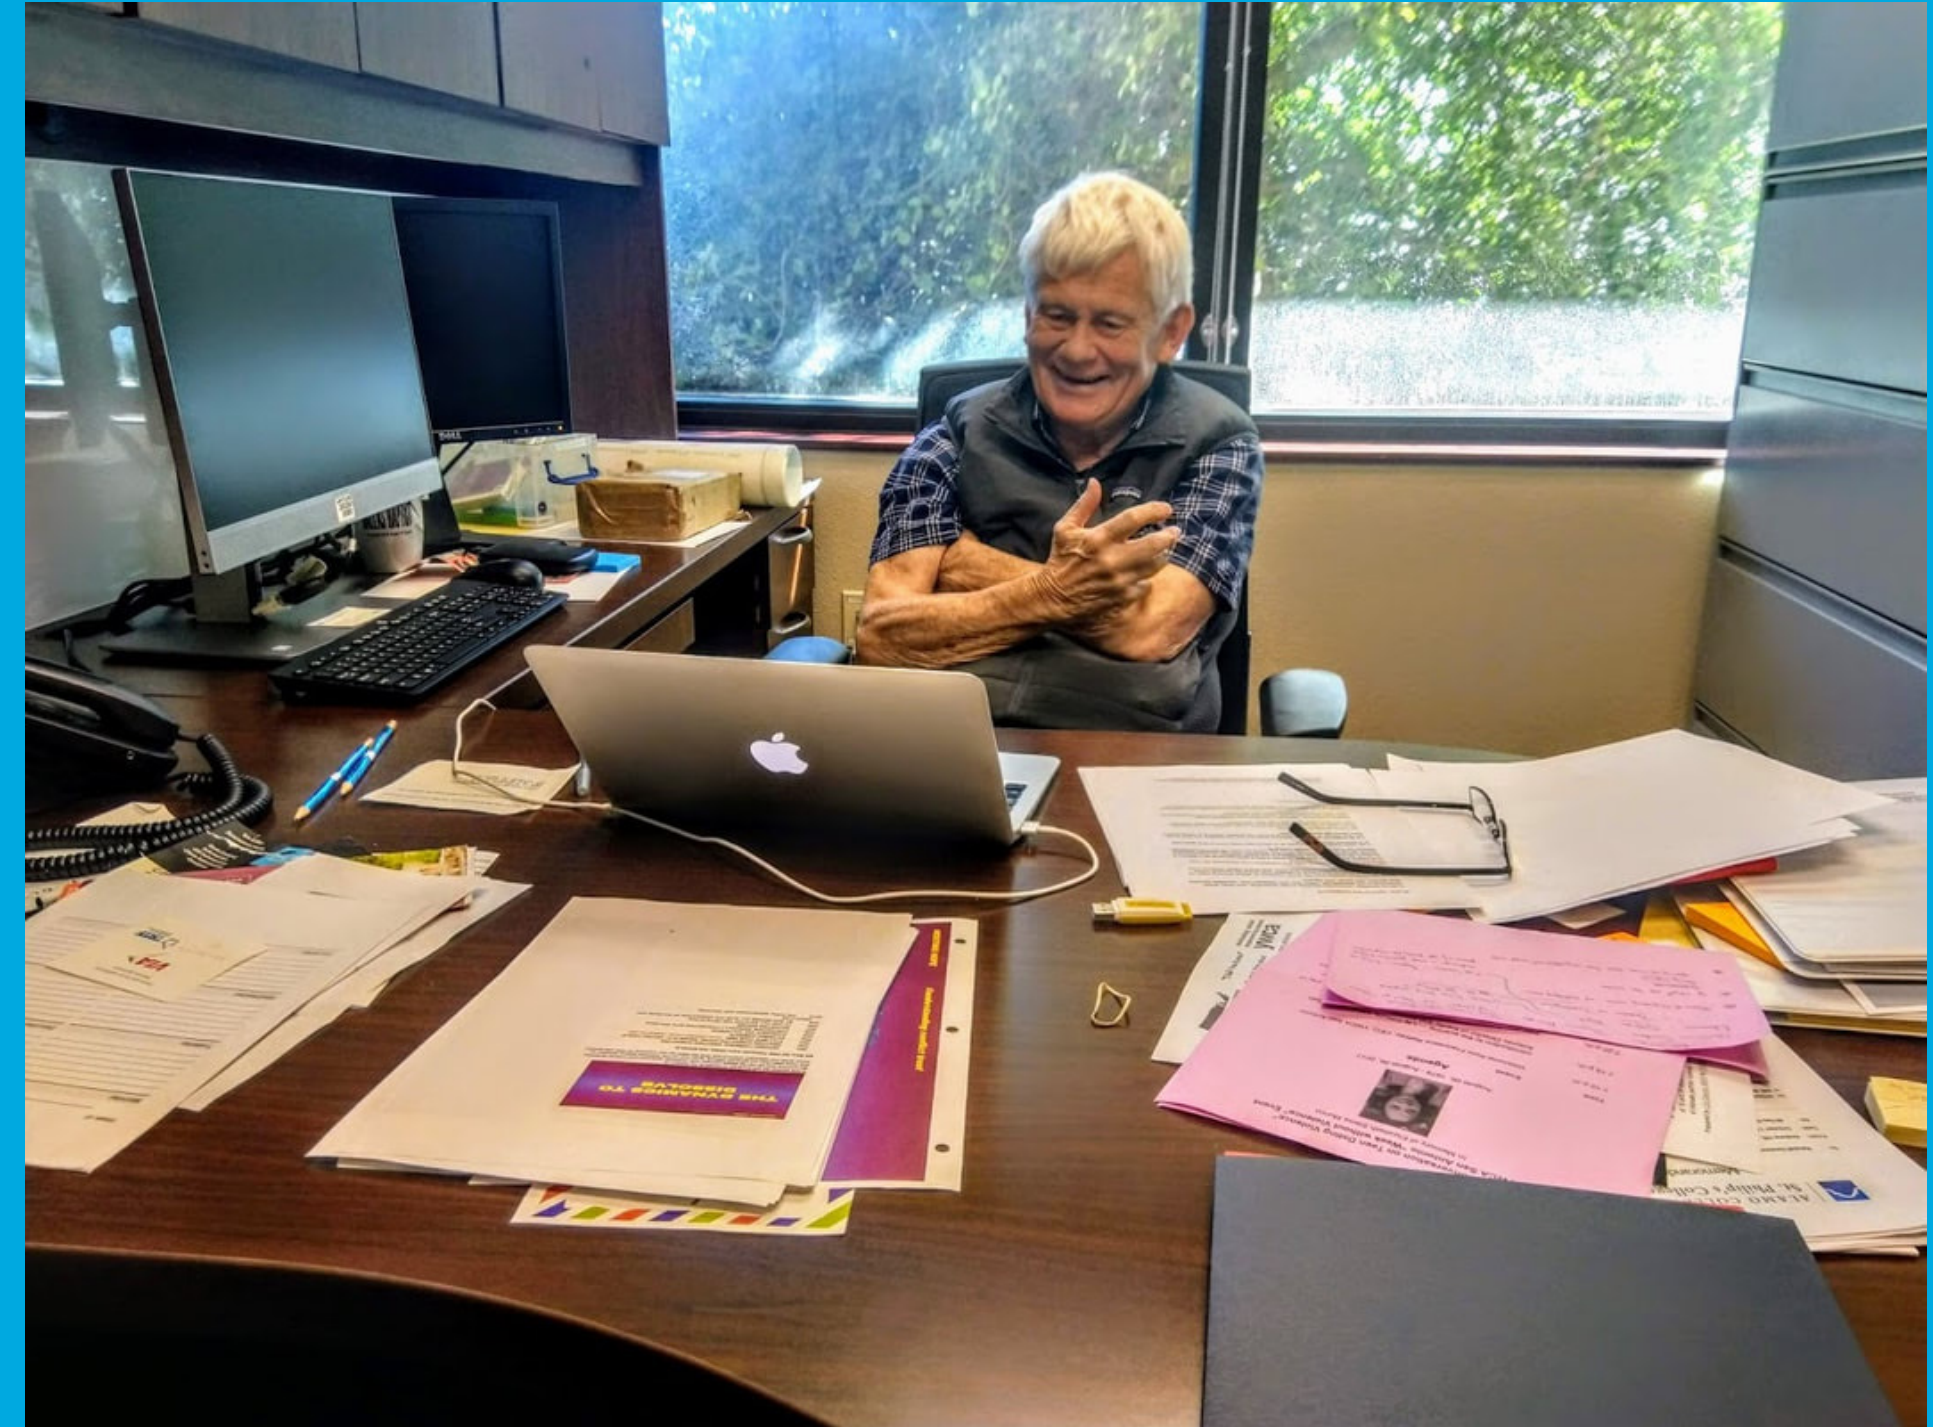

NOV 3 2021

In October, Stanford Global Studies participated in the 2021 Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) Global Learning Conference. This annual conference examines practical and theoretical approaches to reimagining global learning. The conference provides opportunities to explore strategies for making global learning more equitable and inclusive, and for ensuring it aligns with student and societal needs.

SGS hosted two panels featuring alumni from Stanford's EPIC community college faculty fellowship program. EPIC alum Danni Redding Lapuz, interim vice president of instruction at Skyline College and the executive director of the Stanford Global Educators Network, chaired both panels.

Outreach Lecturing Fund

Advance knowledge, enhance teaching, and bring international perspectives and experience to your campus, organization, and community

The Outreach Lecturing Fund (OLF) is an opportunity for U.S. higher education institutions to host Fulbright Visiting Scholars already in the United States, for short-term speaking engagements. Institutions apply to host a scholar for 2 to 4 days, and plan activities that would enhance campus participation in international educational exchange.
